Daoism Overseas

Ideas, Practices, and Scriptures

19th International Conference on Daoist Studies

Mount Wufeng, Jinan, Shandong

25-29 May, 2027

The indigenous higher religion of China, Daoism has not only had a profound impact on ancient Chinese society, culture, lifestyle, and national character, but has also been recognized, and even revered by people overseas. Conducting a comprehensive, systematic and in-depth study of the dissemination and influence of Daoism overseas holds great academic value and cultural significance. In view of this, the theme of the 19th International Conference on Daoist Studies is expected to focus on the dissemination of Daoism overseas. Subjects of discussion include:

1) the religious communities, temples and shrines, inheritance lineages and dissemination methods of Daoism in various parts of the world;

2) the influence of Daoist ideas on the spiritual world and daily life of people overseas;

3) the practice of Daoist medicine, magic, rituals. and cultivation beyond China;

4) the relationship between overseas Daoism and local societies, cultures, ethnic groups, or religions;

5) the relationship between overseas Daoism and traditional Chinese religions as well as folk beliefs;

6) the dissemination and collection of Daoist scriptures in various parts of the world.
